Rumagae fought hard and courageously spinst impending defeat, pulling up in beth sets after Hayes had worked into spistantial leade, but he could never gain full control of his strokes, and his play appeared more ragged to-day than at any time this season.

Burdick came perilously close to sending the spectacular Tilden down to defeat. In fact, had it not been for a slowing up of his game after he had the favorite at 3 to 2. From the instant the barrier was released there was no doubt about the result. Georgie Walls got Tuscaloosa away from the barrier on her toes and sent her skimming along the rail at a terrific pace. Around the bend she opened up a gap of two lengths, and although repeatedly challenged in the home stretch she increased her lead with every bound, be doubles partner of Hayes would have samed added glory for the Windy City this afternoon.

BAKER COMES OUT FOR WORLD'S SERIES

Secretary of War Says He Favors Playing of Post-Season Games.

partment has no knowledge.
While saying that the series should and could be played. Secretary Baker asserted he had not received a request from the National Baseball Commission for the approyal of the Department to play such a series. He intimated that if such a series are the series as a series of the play such a series. Tuscaloosa and Jyntee Cut that local draft boards had granted temporary exemptions to certain players to tide them over the series and indicated that such action would meet no objection from the War Department.
In view of the fact that only a small number of players will be affected it further is intimated that all players liable for a call in the draft will be granted exemption until the completion of the series. Secretary Baker also placed stress on the fact that the soldiers overseas are greatly interested in the series and that the scores of games would be promptly sent to the different units.

HIGH LIGHTS AND SHADOWS IN ALL SPHERES OF SPORT

LL lovers of sport and fair play will applaud the action of Secretary of War Newton D. Baker in sanctioning the world's championship baseball series between the pennant winners of the National and American leagues early next month. It was a big thing for the War Secretary to do. Secretary Baker does more than merely give his consent to the playing of the series, he plainly recommends it." As one of the reasons why the series should be played he cites the interest which the Special Despatch to THE SUN.

WASHINGTON. Aug. 22.—A world's championship baseball series between the pennant winners of the National and American League races became a practical certainty to-day when Secretary of War Newton D. With the Government's approval by Secretary Baker the coming series should attract as much attention as the one between the Giants and White Sox last fail in the first year of American participation in the war. Baseball crowds began to drop off as soon as Secretary Baker announced baseball to be non-public confidence and raise it to a plane it could not possibly have reached in a war year had not Secretary Baker said the kind words in its favor.

Boxing and Bayonet Work.

William H. (Sparrow) Robertson, the athletic expert now in France with the Y. M. C. A., writes that none of the French officers he has talked the mighty Cobb for the third out with the base full.

However, the Tippers were mostly pro-Detroit. At that several of them mingled words with Tyrus Raymond, and bayonet exercise go hand in hand. Both Corporal Albert Beraud, the game back decorated with the Croix de Guerre and the ribbon of the Legion of Honor, one of the most skilled bayonet men among the allied forces, and Lawson Robertson, the Penn trainer, just back from a course in bayonet instruction at the officers' training camp in Ottawa, emphatically declare boxing is of great aid to bayonet work.

There is the fact, too, that our army abroad a very much interested in the results of the series and the scores will be transmitted to them at once.

"If possible I will see that it is played out. I think it can be, and very likely will be."

when the Yanks scored a partition of bayonet three runs, enough to win. Ham Hyatt deported himself real fations of thought and action. He said if one could lead, block and feint in boxing he would have little trouble in learning to thrust, parry and feint efficiently with the steel blade.

Regarding boxing and bayonet fighting Lawson Robertson says: "There are many thrusts and parries in bayonst work entirely different from any lead, block or counter in boxing, but the foundation is the same. One has to have the same coordination of eye and arm. In the same way he tries out. I think it can be, and very likely formed and cover up his own. As a foundation for bayonet work there is nothing better than a knowledge of and experience in boxing."

M'CARTY'S PINCH HIT CHECKS THE CUBS

Giants' Catcher Bats for Kauff

Totals. .. 31 1 7 17 18 9 Totals. .. . 27 0 8 27 15 0 afternoon and declined to serve further . 6 6 0 0 1 0 6 0 6 1 as a football for the Cubs. The New Yorkers succeeded in winning the second game of the series in a tenth inning rally by a score of 4 to 2.

In winning Manager McGraw was forced to spoil the whole afternoon for Benny Kauff, but incidentally the little corporal got a good lesson in teamwork, a timely subject for a man in the army. Benny was withdrawn in the pinch and Lew McCarty sent in to hit for him. Lew is a right handed hitter, and as the left hander Jim Vaughu was pitch-ing it proved good strategy, as Lew DEFEATED ON TRACK ing it proved good strategy, as Lew knocked out a double which sent in two Vaughn, who have figured in a number of tightly pitched games, had another sharp tussle. However, Toney had the better of it, as he permitted only five hits in the ten innings against nine joited off Vaughn.

The Cubs got a run in the first inning. Flack walked and Hollocher singled.

Both moved up on Mann's sacrifice, and Flack scored on Paskert's sacrifice fly on which Kauff made a spectacular catch.

Toney and Burns drove a single to right, Rodriguez, who had profited by a Chi-
